See Loggers' Return To Work Next Week

VICTORIA, (CP) -- Outlook for a settlement of the 32-day-old strike of 35,000 loggers and millworkers in British Columbia appeared brighter Saturday following a meeting of union officials with Premier John Hart and his cabinet.

An authoritative source expressed hope the workers would be back on the job early next week, and Labor Minister Pearson said: "We are going to do all we possibly can to bring both parties together and keep them together until the matter is settled."

Harold Pritchett, district president of the International Woodworkers of America (C.I.O.-C.L.U.) headed a delegation which asked the provincial government immediately take steps to compel lumber operators to resume negotiations. "Our delegation had a very sympathetic hearing from the cabinet," said a union spokesman. "We feel the way is open for progress."

While the government promised its representatives met, some 2,500 strikers and their supporters encircled the legislative buildings, shouting "25-40, union security," and "check-off, not buy-off."

The loggers, who came from the mainland and the Vancouver Island logging and mill centres, will return to their homes Sunday.

British Labor Party Solid, Plans More Nationalization

LONDON -- Annual conference of the British Labor party has demonstrated two things: first, that the party is determined to remain in office for at least 10 years; and second that the Attlee administration has the overwhelming confidence of the rank-and-file.

The first is significant because since 1929 Labor has given the appearance of campaigning without much confidence of victory. It is well known that even Labor leaders did not expect their overwhelming victory last July.

The second is significant because the party's only real political peril at this stage is a breach between its trade union elements and those who have reached the Soviet view point through some other channel. After one year in office the Labor party is still as solid as it ever has been in its history.

British millions of non-Socialists have been watching the conference for some idea of what the Labor government has in store for the future. This much they have learned: Electricity distribution and all forms of inland transport will be nationalized during the next session of parliament; gas distribution together with the iron and steel industry will be nationalized during the session after next; following this the government will run coal mines and all forms of power distribution on a closely co-ordinated basis.

American Dollar Said Over-Valued

LONDON, (REUTERS) -- The world seems divided into two camps on whether the United States dollar is over or undervalued. In Britain and the sterling area the dollar is regarded as currency to be carefully husbanded. But many other countries, including Latin America, Switzerland, and Sweden, have more dollars than they can spend and some significantly Sweden and Switzerland, which know a lot about currency, are convinced the dollar is over-valued.

The Swedish economist, Jacobson, economist of the Bank for International Settlements, seems to believe, even sterling will become stronger than the dollar. Jacobson argues that United States wage rates are the really significant index for exchange purposes -- will after current increases be about 50 percent above pre-war.

U.S. Would Train Big Chinese Army Control All War Weapons Is Envisaged By Baruch

WASHINGTON, (AP) -- The United States is ready to help train a Chinese army of possibly 1,000,000 men, provided Congress gives its okay. The training would include both Central government and Communist troops in a ratio of five to one.

The exact number of men still is uncertain, but Gen. Marshall, special United States envoy to China, has approved a program developed by the state, war and navy departments calling for 3,000 a day. The program would include an "effective small army" of 60 divisions.

United States army forces in China now number only about 6,000 men including both officers and non-commissioned personnel.

The break-in was discovered at 3:00 a.m. by Constables James Mulcahy and R. Arcand in a city police prowler car.

The explosion broke office windows in the building. P.C. Chamber is plant manager.

Printers and Pressmen Wanted

Some two weeks ago the printers and pressmen of The Edmonton Journal and The Edmonton Bulletin walked out of their jobs in sympathy with the International Typographical Union printers on the two Winnipeg newspapers who have been on strike since Nov. 8, 1945.

Neither Edmonton newspaper has nor has had the slightest dispute with its men over wages, working conditions or hours of work. Indeed, wages in Edmonton, in these crafts, are the highest in the three prairie provinces.

The hope that the situation could be adjusted amicably through the good sense and judgment of the strikers, the Edmonton publishers did not at once engage outside help but relied on the patience of their readers and advertisers, were content to publish as best they could with the voluntary aid of members of their office and editorial staffs.

In complete fairness to readers and advertisers, however, this situation cannot continue indefinitely. So, effective Monday, June 17, applications will be received by The Edmonton Journal and The Edmonton Bulletin from printers and pressmen seeking employment in the two plants.

The highest scale of wages approved by the Regional War Labor Board will be paid. This is one dollar six and two-thirds cents per hour, or $48.00 per week for a 45-hour week.

Working conditions in effect before the work stoppage occurred will be maintained in the respective establishments.

Seamen's Pay Raise Said Union Victory

WASHINGTON, (AP) -- Amid scenes of hectic confusion, the great maritime labor dispute was settled late Friday night, with sweeping gains for C.I.O. seamen and dock workers.

The signing was announced just after the zero hour set for a strike. In some eastern ports pickets had already marched toward their posts. Leaders in a number of ports signified their intention of keeping their men on strike until the settlement was formally ratified by local unions.

But the unions' claims of an "unprecedented victory" indicated such work stoppages would be brief.

Following are high spots of the agreements, reached after a day of frantic negotiations and cross-country telephone calls.

Seamen gained about $50 a month. Of this, $17.50 was a flat wage increase, retroactive to April 1. The rest comes from reducing the basic work-week and increasing the overtime rate to $2 an hour.

Seamen will keep on working 56 hours a week on voyages, but they will be paid overtime on Sundays. In effect this reduces the straight-time week to 48 hours. The work-week is shortened from 44 to 40 hours, with overtime paid after 40.

The American Merchant Marine Institute said the agreement will increase a seaman's monthly cheque by about 30 percent.

Able-bodied seamen now make $145 a month plus overtime of about $35 a month. The $50 additional will bring average earnings to around $230, roughly war-time earnings.

C.I.O. longshoremen get a wage increase of 22 cents an hour, as recommended by a fact-finding board last year.

The increase will be retroactive to last Oct. 1, and will bring wages of longshoremen from the present $1.15 an hour to $1.37, and one independent were cheered by labor and deplored by ship operators.

The Committee for Maritime Unity said participation of C.I.O. President Philip Murray in the negotiations had been a "large factor" in securing a settlement of the dispute.

Frank J. Taylor, chairman of the negotiating committee for the general agents of the War Shipping Administration on the Atlantic and Gulf coasts, said the strike had been averted by intervention of the government.

However, Mr. Taylor added that companies "have grave misgivings as to the future of the American merchant marine."

"The U.S. treasury can doubtless bear this burden on government-owned ships, but it remains to be seen for how long privately-owned ships under the American flag can compete under the staggering handicap now imposed upon them."

Mr. Taylor said the monthly wage bill of a United States ship would be $10,154 compared to $7,505 for Canada, the next highest.

Howe Says Canadian Experts Could Make Own Atomic Bombs Without U.S. Help

OTTAWA -- Canadian military ordnance experts could make their own atomic bombs, without having to ask the United States for its much-publicized "know-how," the commons was told Friday by Reconstruction Minister Howe.

Replying to questions by John Macdonald (S.C. Lethbridge), Mr. Howe said he had no doubt that with the explosive material essential to atomic bombs available in Canada, ordnance experts could design and make Canadian atomic bombs.

He did not think it was particularly difficult to make atomic bombs, and he did not think it necessary to have knowledge of how the Americans did it.

Mr. Howe stated further that the Canadian government had no objection to distributing by-products of plutonium (atomic energy source for medical research, as was being done in the United States, Canada was going to do the same thing.

Pogrom Reported In Polish Areas

JERUSALEM, (CP) -- A Jewish agency source Friday said Jewish emigrants from Europe have reported a three-day pogrom in Polish-held Galicia and a "wave" of anti-Semitism has swept over Poland.

The informant said the pogrom was caused in part by the repatriation of more than 100,000 Jews from Russia, O. 100,000 of whom were sent into Stettin without food or work.

Situation on Meat Being Discussed

By Chester Bloom

OTTAWA, (CP) -- The whole meat situation is under consideration but no decision has been reached to raise retail prices, said Mr. Gordon, chairman of the prices board, Friday.

"We are meeting with representatives of the various branches of the trade," said Mr. Gordon. "I can go no farther than that. Finance Minister Flaherty said in the House of Commons, 'We increased the whole-sale price ceilings on top grades of beef for experimental purposes. We must determine how it is working.'"

Meat retailers here are expected to have a boost up to five cents a pound of retail prices on red and blue brand beef or they cannot handle it."

Medical Treatment Free for Aussies
CANBERRA—Patients of all income groups in public hospitals now are receiving free treatment in four Australian states.

Cost is being borne by the Commonwealth government by means of grants to state governments which will administer the scheme. Later the scheme will be extended to cover part payment of treatment in private hospitals.

The project is part of the Commonwealth governments plan for social services. The scheme is operating in only four states because of constitutional delays. In New South Wales and South Australia, provision for the scheme was contained in the Hospital Benefits Act passed by the federal parliament in September.

But the act did not give the Commonwealth government authority to put the scheme into operation. It merely gave it power to make agreements with the states, preparatory to the introduction of the plan in these states. Neither the New South Wales nor the South Australian governments have yet ratified the agreements.

South Australia's delay is due to a hitch in administration, but New South Wales is delaying ratification until it receives an assurance from the Commonwealth that adequate medical services will be provided in public wards of state hospitals.

Radar Can Detect Storms Over 100 Miles Distant

(Released by the North American Newspaper Alliance, Inc.)
WASHINGTON.—Meteorologists now are able to "see" storms more than 100 miles away by means of radar equipment, operated with very short waves.

The storms appear as tiny, bright images on a radar screen. For some time there was a controversy over their interpretation; but it now is accepted as reasonably certain that they are caused by precipitation of some sort, such as raindrops, snow, ice particles or hail. Tests have shown that they were not produced by fair weather clouds or boundaries between air masses.

Each kind of precipitation, ranging from the gentle spring rain to the torrents of a hurricane, now appears to have a characteristic pattern which shows up on the radar screen, according to reports from workers at the Massachusetts Institute of Technology. Simple measurements of these patterns permit accurate determination of the size, speed, and direction of the precipitation areas.

The radar storm patterns will enable meteorologists to study all types of storms and their constituent elements. They will also enable meteorologists to determine wind direction aloft on cloudy days.

Up to now the practice has been to observe this visually from the course of small balloons, although it was impossible to do this when

PROJECT NYLON MILL
Canadian interests will participate in organization of Australia's new $2,250,000 nylon and rayon mill, planned for construction in the State of Victoria, Melbourne learns, but control of the company will be in Australian hands. The public will be offered at least $1,650,000 of the shares. Canadian technical resources will help launch the industry and pilot it through its "teething stages."

There were low clouds. The radar echoes from the surfaces of the balloons now make it possible to do this very accurately. Winds aloft are one of the most significant elements in weather forecasting.

This new tool of weather forecasting is expected to be of particular value at airports where more and more accurate predictions from hour to hour are demanded to ensure safe travel.

Mikhailovitch Says Letter Shows

Personal Collaboration With foe

BELGRADE, (AP) - Gen. Draja Mikhailovitch, formerly agreed with his prosecutors Friday that a letter produced in his treason trial amounted to his personal collaboration with the enemy.

The prosecutor produced a handwritten letter which Mikhailovitch admitted was genuine. It said, "Yesterday 2- (a code name for Italians) helped us well."

After reading it the prosecutor asked, "What do you call this?" "Intrigue," Mikhailovitch answered.

Another letter which instructed his Chetnik unit to receive arms from the Italian occupation forces, Mikhailovitch agreed, comprised his personal collaboration.

Previously, the bearded Chetnik chief told the Yugoslav military court that an American liaison officer had informed him in 1944 that "American youth is now fighting for Communism and does not want Communism in Yugoslavia."

The American officer, Col. Robert McDowell, also told him, Mikhailovitch said, that "America would support me and my government and movement exclusively."

He added that Col. McDowell declared, "When the Russians reach the frontier the Red army will not enter Yugoslavia."

The Chetnik chief said earlier his followers saved from 300 to 400 United States fliers forced down in Yugoslavia during the war.

Mikhailovitch also saved a group of R.C.A.F. airmen who sought unsuccessfully for permission to testify on his behalf.

Premier Lashes at Exiled King,

Makes Appeal For Italian Unity

ROME, (AP) - Premier De Gasperi appealed to Italians Friday to support the new republic, regardless of how they voted in last week's elections.

The premier addressed the country by radio in an atmosphere of tension created by an acrimonious exchange between his government and King Umberto who resigned Lisbon Friday for his exile.

A manifesto issued Thursday night in Umberto's name charged that the cabinet had usurped the king's powers in a "revolutionary gesture" and added the king had left Italy "in order to avoid civil war."

A royal decree said Umberto would consider himself king pending a formal court ruling of the king's status.

De Gasperi, who deplored "the tragedy of that man" - Umberto, said De Gasperi said Umberto "has forfeited with the dictatorship" and attempted to "lead the nation to ruin" and "the king is part of the national catastrophe."

De Gasperi said, asserting an exaltation was due from Umberto, even as "we all must exult."

Dakota Defends Bank Control Plan,

Answers Labor Party Criticisms

BOURNEMOUTH, ENG. (CP) - The labor party conference closed Friday, after a dramatic last-minute debate on colonial imperialism, with the passing of a goodwill telegram to Lord Pethick-Lawrence, secretary for India, which expressed the hope that the cabinet mission to India may result in India's independence.

Earlier the chancellor had exchanged Hugh Dalton, outlined the government's financial policy and plans.

Mr. Dalton enumerated a number of essential benefits for the nation to be derived from the form of reduced taxes, increased social insurance, benefits and repayment of post-war credits, to keep pace with increased production of consumer goods for the home market.

Answering party criticisms that he paid too much for the Bank of England - the first institution taken under public ownership - Mr. Dalton said the bank would be a great deal more than the price which had been paid.

He added the position of the Bank of England stocks as "elitist securities" made the bank a "very special investment" for other nationalized industries. He said, "will be different."

Ottawa Confident

Income Tax Cuts

TORONTO, (CP) - Ottawa is confident that the points of key policy remain to be settled in the forthcoming federal budget that it is not likely to be brought down until June 25 or 27.

That there will be definite reductions in personal income and business taxes continues to be the confident forecast.

The extent of such reductions depends on the decisions that Prime Minister King will make on his return from Italy.

It is believed that King will make his decision on the matter when he arbitrates between the two schools of thought in his cabinet.

Penicillin Declared Valuable

In Reducing Infant Deaths

BANFF, (CP) - Great reduction in infant deaths in the first four weeks of life is possible through use of penicillin to kill the staphylococcus germ most common cause of infection in the neo-natal period, Dr. Donald Paterson of London, Eng., told the Canadian Medical Association Friday.

The neo-natal period is particularly vulnerable in the life of an infant, he said.

Staphylococcus is the germ which causes boils in an adult but manifests itself in a variety of ways in the infant. Sulfa doesn't touch it, Dr. Paterson said.

Dr. Paterson's paper was one of several delivered at the annual meeting of the Canadian Medical Association.

Dr. F. A. Turnbull of Vancouver, advocated the use of cortisone, a surgical operation to relieve "unmanageable" pain in advanced cancer cases by despoiling the nerves from the spinal column to the affected part.

Dr. Harold R. Griffith, Montreal, described the use of curare, a poison long used by South American Indians on arrowheads and now employed to relax human muscles during operations.

Dr. L. G. Bell, Winnipeg, described the danger kidney inflammation after scarlet fever and said the disease was potentially fatal when it became acute.

Dr. J. F. C. Anderson, Saskatoon, said allergies could cause not only hay fever and asthma but eczema, migraine and some sinus infections.

Dr. J. W. Scott, Edmonton, reported a mortality of almost five percent among the 3,000 to 10,000 annual cases of tuberculosis in the United States. It is originated in wild rabbits in Alberta.

Dr. Allan Walters, Toronto, and Dr. G. F. Strong, Vancouver, told how supposed heart disease symptoms often are caused by other ailments.

LOOTING WAS UNIVERSAL

The case of the Kronberg castle jewel robbery highlights the most sordid aspect of the conquest and occupation of Germany by Allied armies -- the looting of private property, a scale probably unequalled since the mercenaries of the Middle Ages were given a "vagnus" in the form of the right to seize whatever they could

THE LENGTHENED SHADOW OF A MAN...

• The love and devotion of a man for his family can live on after his passing. He can make sure of a regular income for his family whether or not he is here to earn it.

He can provide funds to clear off a mortgage, to give his children an education, to enable his family to face the future without fear of privation.

All these benefits can be assured by an Imperial Life policy. Life insurance is indeed "the lengthened shadow of a man", continuing into the future the means for the upbringing of his family just as though he himself were present.

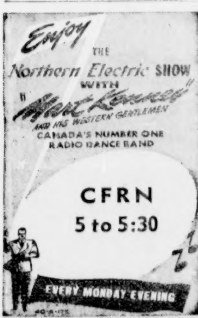

Imperial Life policies are designed to provide for a man's dependent years as well. Your Imperial Life representative will be glad to discuss with you a plan suited to your particular needs.

"We're spreading you a bit thin—we all need a good turn for today!"

French Interested In Canada's Future

PARIS. — Warm tribute to Canada's war effort was paid by "La Tribune Economique," a newly-founded, non-partisan weekly newspaper.

Pointing to the difficulties that lie ahead for the dominion, "passing from the economy way to the economy of peace," the article stated, "in no other country have the changes in national life been so profound since the beginning of the war."

The paper gave the staggering figures of Canada's wartime industry and explained, "In 1940 Canada was a large agricultural country. Today she is an industrial power of the first order."

"Canada has become the arsenal of the British Commonwealth."

The writer said that Canada, like is going to maintain her industrial progress, needs a tariff-free world and a long-term program of development to exploit most beneficially the country's natural resources.

The article reflected the deep interest that French people in all walks of life have developed in Canada and her future, and Canadian in Paris are beset with questions on immigration and living conditions in Canada.

THE EXTRA WAGON hooked on street car trailers in Dresden, Germany, is intended to haul small freight but usually it is used by passengers who can't find standing room on cars. Many of city's street cars were wrecked in bombing before Russian occupation.

Promote Memorial To Noted Musician

LONDON.—Britons are being asked to buy a brick each in the proposed People's Concert Hall which is to be a permanent home for the London symphony orchestra as well as memorial to the late Sir Henry Wood who founded the "Proms" 21 years ago.

Stressing the "urgent need" for a new concert hall in London to replace the blitzed Queen's hall, the BBC invites listeners to buy tickets of 10 "bricks" tokens, priced at one shilling per brick, and sell them among fellow music lovers.

It is hoped, says the BBC, that artists, orchestras, church societies, music clubs and music lovers all over the world will come forward to assist this great cause by arranging concerts for the benefit of the fund.

Why not form a Henry Wood music circle in your city, borough or village with the object of stimulating musical interest and assisting the fund?

It was one of Sir Henry's dearest wishes to see a People's Concert hall erected in London.

Lord Horder is president of the Henry Wood national memorial fund.

Scot Trains Poles In Art of Bagpipe

EDINBURGH, Scotland. — The Polarisaid society of Scotland helped train 93 Canadian army pipers during the war, in courses given at Edinburgh castle.

Pipe Major William Ross, M.B.E., noted Scottish bagpipe instructor, taught 712 pipers from British dominions and even Polish forces during the last six years.

Canadians who attended more than one course on the finer points of pipemaking included Pipe Majors: Esom, Vancouver; Neil Sutherland and Malcolm MacKinnon, Calgary, and Sgt. Armstrong, all of the Scottish Highlanders of Canada; Pipe Major D. Sutherland, Canadian Black Watch; Pipe Majors Duncan and Scott; Cameron Highlanders of Ottawa, and Pipe Major Noble, Argyll and Sutherland Highlanders of Canada.

Unable to get out of a new painted compartment on the Aberdeen-London express, a man pulled the communication cord, the express stopped on the outskirts of Edinburgh, and before it could be restarted an extra engine had to be summoned.

A German war prisoner who escaped from a camp near Reading, Eng., remained at large for a month by pretending to be deaf and dumb.

It was a great idea.....

The coffee is Nob Hill, the idea is this: in one thrifty bag, Nob Hill brings you a blend of the choicest coffee money can buy plus the true freshness that comes with having coffee ground to your order when you buy it.

Juveniles Make Colored Talkie

HASTINGS, Eng.—With a disguised dance hall for a studio and pieces of cardboard sewn together for scenery, a group of young people here have made what they believe is the first amateur colored talking film.

Entitled "The Manor House," with a story set in the times of the Crusades, the film lasts 45 minutes and is the co-operative effort of members, aged between 15 and 24, of the GIB Film society.

G. Ivan Barnett, who directed, photographed and edited the film, said it cost about £100 ($450) raised from subscriptions and proceeds from local dances.

Members provided their own costumes. Sets were designed and made by Hugh Gladwin, 17. Leading roles were taken by 18-year-old Gawn Watford, an employee of the Embassy theatre, London, and 19-year-old Keith Wood, Hastings office clerk.

Outdoor scenes were shot at historic Bodiam castle and in Alexandra park.

"We hope the film will be shown locally and elsewhere," Barnett said. "Meanwhile, we are making a film of the war entitled 'There'll Always Be An England.'"

Bahamas Bidding For Silk Market

NASSAU.—Silk worms and mulberry trees have been imported to the Bahamas Islands in an attempt to make the islands a major production centre for silk.

About 15 months ago, the British Caribbean Silk Co. launched the project bringing in cuttings from Chinese mulberry trees in South America and planting them on one of the 28 islands. Plans call for more cuttings to be brought for planting on other islands.

The Bahamas' semi-tropical climate is ideal for silk worm culture, and six crops of cocoons are harvested each year—four more than the number usually collected in Japan.

Millions in War-torn Lands Need Clothing, Blankets, Boots

WHAT CAN YOU SPARE THAT THEY CAN WEAR?

MILLIONS in Europe and Asia are wearing the same few garments day in, day out . . . the only clothing they have. They give each other what help they can . . . but you can give so much more. For a while longer the ordinary people, those who caught the brunt of the war, depend on you. In hospitals the sick are lying on straw. Every single garment, each pair of shoes, each blanket or sheet that you can spare means hope for them. Go through your cupboards now. Give every bit of clothing you don't really need.

WHAT IS NEEDED...

Overcoats	Shoes	Sweaters
Topcoats	Dresses	Robes
Suits	Skirts	Underwear
Jackets	Gloves	Pyjamas
Pants	Caps	Bedding

Special needs are work clothes, underwear, shoes and warm garments. Wash cottons. Don't worry about pressing. Don't worry about buttons. The Canadian Allied Relief will look after these details.

WHAT YOU CAN DO...

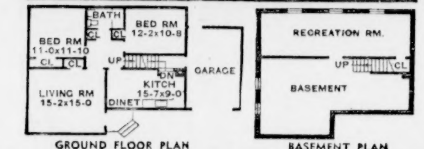

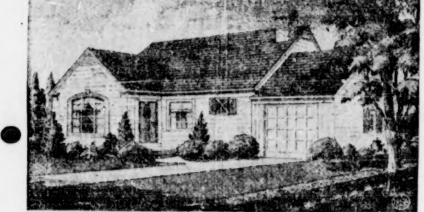

1. Check through your closets and trunks. Make up your bundle of clothing, bedding, boots and shoes. Wrap it in paper and tie it securely. Tie shoes in pairs.
2. Take your bundle to the nearest collection depot or post office—you can include a short personal message with your contribution.

DDT, Used Early, Kills Garden Pests from Ambush

Spraying and dusting the garden in time to prevent damage, which is the right way, will be much facilitated by the peculiar nature of DDT, the new insecticide, which promises to be a boon to amateurs, and to be plentiful this year.

DDT is different in action from the older contact insecticides and stomach poisons. Insects had to be hit by the contact poisons, and it was not easy to hit leaf hoppers, for example, which swarmed up and flew away when you approached the plants they were destroying. Stomach poisons only affected insects which ate plant tissues, and left the juice drinkers unharmed.

But DDT gets both kinds, by contact; only instead of hitting the insect direct it lies waiting on the plant until the insects walk over it and then with deadly effect it strikes, through the feet of the crawler. This "residue" may remain sufficiently on the plant for days, or months, depending on its strength in the first place, and its exposure to sunshine and rain, both of which shorten the toxic period. But in any case it remains effective for longer than the older poisons, requiring fewer applications.

A review of reports made by state experiment stations shows the following garden insects which are immune to the new killer: Red spider, Mexican bean beetle, and "some aphids."

The insects against which it was said to be more effective than older materials included cabbage worms, European corn borer, pea and potato aphids, leaf hoppers of all kinds, the codling moth, canker worm, gypsy moth, Japanese beetles and the bark beetles which transmit the Dutch elm disease.

There are so many different kinds of aphids, that it will take a long time to determine just which ones succumb to DDT and which do not. Meanwhile the home gardener can use rotenone, which kills them all. It mixes well with DDT. Pungent also may be combined with DDT without lessening the effectiveness of either.

DDT is harmless to users, according to these reports, except when combined with oil, and then reason: Dust or spray your plants before insects damage them.

able precautions make it safe. The form most recommended for garden use is a dust, from 3 to 10 per cent in strength, or a wettable dust which can be used for spraying, when mixed with water. Most of the garden tests were made with dust.

DDT is the older insecticides which DDT threatens to displace, the chief one is arsenate of lead, which is more poisonous than the new material both to humans, and to bees. Some experimenters think that DDT will replace all forms of arsenic, especially on potatoes and fruit trees.

Lettuce seed germinates best in a soil temperature of 60 to 65 degrees. If necessary to sow when temperatures are higher, place the seed between moist cloths and store for several days on ice. Dry the surface of the seed before sowing.

Bonnie Doon Route Nearly completed

The Bonnie Doon bus route, construction of which started early this year will be completed by the end of next week if the present line weather continues. Mayor Harry Ainlay announced Friday.

HE SAID THAT the hard surfacing of the Bonnie Doon end of the route will be finished during next week. This leaves only the graveling of the hill section of the route, and it is possible this work will be completed by Saturday next.

There is some uncertainty concerning the opening of traffic operations on the route as delivery of buses to service the Bonnie Doon, Hilda and districts on the route have been delayed by strike action in the United States.

Christian Faith Is Urged For Natives

Native races in the Pacific have no hope of security without Christianity, Dr. P. N. W. Strong, Anglican Bishop of New Guinea, told the annual Religion and Life Convention in Sydney.

"Australia's first duty is to give the native peoples of the Pacific a Christian faith," he declared. "The government should insist upon treatment based on Christian principles."

Criticizing plans of the minister of external territories, which, he said, ignored Christian missions, R. W. Robson, editor of the Pacific Island Monthly, declared that any effort to educate natives without using missionaries would be a "tragic mistake." He said progress in the Pacific islands is due mainly to missionaries.

Dr. F. Dewitt Batty, Anglican Bishop of New Guinea, urged that revenge and hatred be shunned by the Allies in their treatment of Germany and Japan. Such a policy, he said, was the only way "to rid the enemy harmless and turn him into a friend."

Declaring that "generosity in victory is a sound political instrument," he recalled that concessions granted to South Africa after the Boer War gave Great Britain "a loyal ally."

Ice patrol vessels of the U.S. Coast Guard cover a radius of from 5,000 to 6,000 miles in their search for ice-bergs.

What Makes a Nation Great?

Not serried ranks with flags unfurled.
Not armored ships that grid the world.
Not hoarded wealth nor busy mills.
Not cattle on a thousand hills.
Not sagges wise, nor schools nor laws.
Not hoisted deeds in freedom's cause—
All these may be, and yet the state
In eye of God be far from great.

That land is great which knows the Lord
Whose songs are guided by His Word.
Where justice rules 'twixt man and man.
Where love controls in art and plan.
Where, breathing in his native air,
Each soul finds joy in praise and prayer—
Thus may our country, good and great,
Be God's delight — man's best estate.

TODAY'S MESSAGE

Skepticism Toward Religion

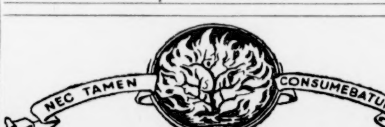

A SAD aftermath of the war is the widespread tendency to spiritual despair. This feeling of futility is rooted in the realization that not only does evil persist in the world, but apparently grows more potent. After having fought two global wars that were to have ended war forever, the nations are probably worse off than ever. On top of this is the fear that another war is in the making in which resort to atomic weapons may threaten a holocaust of inconceivable horror.

One result of this fear is a skepticism toward religion on the part of peoples throughout the world. Skepticism stems from the selfishness of nations which already threatens the delicate fabric of peace. It comes also from the bitterness between industry and labor and the intolerances and hatreds between individuals that complete the ingredients that go into the making of wars.

What can the Christian say in the face of an apparent universal disregard of basic concepts of duty to God and to fellow men? He cannot deny that nationalistic clashes on the one hand and moral and social irresponsibility on the other are vital menaces to humanity. But he is entitled to remind the skeptic that the plight of the world has not grown out of religion, but out of the refusal to practice religion.

One of the striking paradoxes is that those who denounce religion most are the loudest in asserting the need for those very moral codes which are its essence. The Christian knows that religion is a lever that can lift the world out of the morass in which it lies today. The difficulty is in persuading the skeptics, the indifferent—even the frankly antagonistic—to give religion a fair chance. The lever of religion is not self-operating. It can be put in position easily enough, but it will need the pressure of millions of morally-minded, conscientious people everywhere before it can uproot the world from its bed of sin and despair.

AFTERNOON AND EVENING MEETINGS

Do You Just Belong?

By ROBERT STEVENS
Are you a member of this Club, The kind that would be missed, Or are you just contented That your name is on the list?

Do you attend the Meetings And mingle with the Crowd, Or do you stay at home and Crab both long and Loud?

Do you ever go to visit A member that is sick, Or leave the work for just a few, And talk about the Clique?

There's quite a program scheduled That means success if done, And it can be accomplished With The help of everyone.

So attend the gatherings regularly, And help with hand and heart, Don't be just a Member, But take an active part.

Think this over, Member, Are you right or are we wrong? Are you an active Member, Or Do You Just Belong?

As Might Be Sung
By Ted V. Voorhees
"I love Thy Church, O God, Her walls excuse my absence, Lord, This bed is simply grand!"

"A charge to keep I have, A God to glorify," But Lord, no cash from me, Thy glory comes too high.

"Am I a soldier of the Cross, A follower of the Lamb?" Yes! Though I seldom pray or fast, I still insist, I am.

"Must Jesus bear the cross alone, And all the world go free?" No! Others, Lord, should do their part, But please don't count on me.

"Praise God from whom all blessings flow; Praise Him, all creatures here; Oh, loud my hymns of praise bring, Because it doesn't cost to sing!"

No Longer Outlawed
Japan Episcopal Church
Is Reported Reorganizing

The first postwar general synod of the Japan Episcopal Church, meeting in Tokyo, started the wheels of reorganization moving after five years as an outlawed organization in Japan.

WHEN THE RELIGIOUS bodies in Japan were outlawed in 1940, Japanese Episcopalians refused to alter their constitution and canons in line with the official policy. As a consequence they were legally banned in Japan, persecuted, and their top leaders were finally thrown into jail. However, Episcopal leaders here do not admit that ecclesiastically the church was dissolved.

The synod, which met on the campus of St. Paul's University here, reincorporated the Nippon Seikoku Kaigi (Japan Episcopal Church) with its original constitution and canons in line with the new policy of religious freedom in Japan.

THE EPISCOPAL leaders set up a new national council and staffed it. They resolved to incorporate the church under the forthcoming Religious Legal Corporations Act in order to protect its property. Also, they changed the Japanese words in usage for "bishop," "presbyter," "deacon," decided to rebuild immediately the closed Central Theological Seminary, and launched a fund-raising campaign for the rehabilitation of Episcopal churches and institutions destroyed during the war.

Bishop Paul Shinji Sasaki, 58, presiding bishop of the Japan Episcopal Church, who emigrated to Canada from Japan four months' confinement as a "thought criminal," presided at the synod's sessions. The Rev. Kitaro Nishimura, rector of the Church of the True Light in Tokyo, was elected head of the national council.

The COUNCIL was reorganized with five sections: general affairs, finance, education, literature and missions, with the following persons the respective heads of the sections: Rev. Hidetoshi Nosen, pastor of St. Andrew's Church, Shiga, Tokyo; Tatsumi Ishikawa, member of the Omori Church, Tokyo; Professor Furo Kurose, of the Central Theological Seminary; the Rev. Ryoku Okumura, pastor of All Saints Church, Tokyo; and the Rev. Yonos Maruoka, pastor of the Kawasaki Church, outside Tokyo.

The Episcopal seminary, across the street from St. Paul's University, was closed during the war and Japanese gauleiters for the southern empire. Its main building and chapel were razed in the bombing of Tokyo, and will now be rebuilt. The school now meets with two students in a house on the campus.

THE JAPAN EPISCOPAL church was the fourth largest Christian body in Japan, with about 250 churches, 31,000 members, and some of the best social and educational institutions in the country. At least eighty of these churches were burned during the war, and four schools, including the seminary, were razed. The synod approved plans to arrange for the rebuilding of destroyed property.

Under the official interpretation of the Religious Bodies Law in 1940 the Episcopal Church was required to join the United Church of Christ of Japan. Because of its unique constitution and policy, Episcopalians refused to join the union. This act made them suspect throughout the war. Churches were visited weekly by police, and members were questioned and terrorized until all but a few stayed away from church.

It is said that there are 11,896,780 different hands possible in the game of bridge.

Still Greatest Need
Many voices are crying out concerning the multiplied needs of this muddled world. Large sections of the world are without the necessities of children in Europe and elsewhere cry themselves to sleep bemoaning lack of shelter and loss of family.

It is not heartless to remind ourselves of an even greater need. Men need Christ. They need Him in the forgiveness of sin and in power out of themselves to make them what they should be.

And the chief need is the realization of its lostness outside of Christ. There will be no demand for a Saviour until there is the felt need of deliverance.

A secular magazine carried a thought-provoking article concerning refugees and the unnumbered hosts of broken families. Here is a more or less typical case in the records of The World Bureau of Missing Persons:

There's the story of Arnold B. When the Nazis came to power in Reich law, Arnold's father was killed. His mother was taken away by the Gestapo. A brother who landed in Shanghai has not been heard from since the Japs took over. A sister is somewhere in Chile. This year-old Arnold is now in a refugee camp in Switzerland.

Tragic, tragic indeed, those shattered families! How terrible to have a child lost! But how unspeakably awful to know children and others are eternally lost.

The coldness would be gone from our hearts and the indifference would vanish from our Christian service if we only briefly had some genuine realization of human lostness.

May God enlarge our sympathies toward all in distress. May He save us from ever being blind to the physical needs of our fellowmen. And may He solemnize our hearts and quicken our efforts on behalf of those who are lost in a refugee camp.

STALIN AND MOLOTOV LEAD FUNERAL PROCESSION FOR KALININ IN MOSCOW

CHILDREN OF GREECE WORK TO REBUILD WAR-TORN HOMES

HAREM FAVORITE—Linda Darnell was transformed from an Occidental beauty to the temptuous favorite wife of King Mongkut, for filming of "Anna and the King of Siam." She had to dye her hair black, darken her skin and wear Siamese sarong.

FOR PLAYTIME IN JAPAN—Rosemary, one, and Robert, Jr., three, Cleveland, O., pack their playthings for trip to Japan to join their father, an Army captain. Mrs. Robert J. Moran assures her son there'll be room for his panda-bear. The Morans will leave with the first contingent of Army wives and children to join occupation forces in Japan.

KALININ'S FUNERAL—The funeral procession in Moscow for Mikhail Ivanovich Kalinin is led by Generalissimo Josef Stalin, left background, and Foreign Minister V. M. Molotov. The death-mask of the former U.S.S.R. president can be seen atop casket at extreme right.

PREFERS HORSES TO MODERN MACHINERY—To disk and condition ground for sowing his oats, Melvin Lundberg, Pomeroy, Iowa, farmer, prefers his five-horse team to a tractor on his 120-acre farm. "A fellow hates to get rid of them," he said.

FOR SALE—After quitting their jobs in an airplane factory in England, Robert W. McKinley and Walter Kumaski left Liverpool in the small sailing yacht, foreground, above, for their home in California. A few days out they encountered bad weather and had to radio for help.

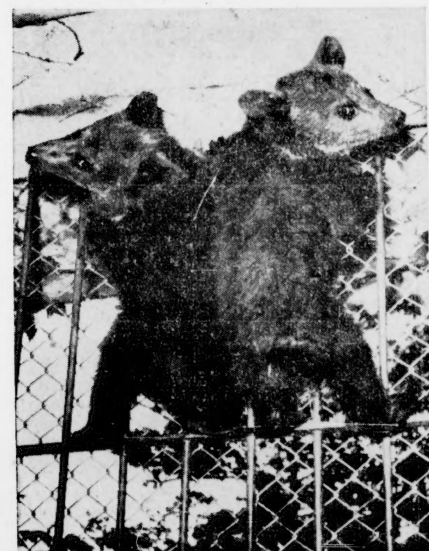

NO NUDE IS GOOD NUDE—Despite orders not to hang any nudes in the fresh-air exhibit at Philadelphia, Mrs. Florence Shubert, kneeling, and her sister, Barbara Reiff, displayed two nude paintings. The art jury promptly had the pictures removed. Here girls exhibit their abstract work.

FORGOTTEN FIGHTERS—Only a fraction of the Spanish Republicans, who fled into France when Franco's troops achieved victory in 1939, remain alive today. Here some of the refugees are cared for in the poorly-equipped Varsovie Hospital at Toulouse, France.

DESIGN FOR COOLNESS—Four-year-old Florence Peterson appears to have the heat situation well under control. With an ice-cream pop in one hand, a sun-shielding umbrella in the other, she floats in the county pool at Audubon, N. J.

NO PRIVACY—"Mish" and "Ona," hastily climbed fence in the Detroit Zoo when a photographer invaded their privacy. The camera-shy Russian brown bear cubs are four months old.

MISS FLORIDA—Jackie Jennings, 18, holds trophy after winning 1946 Miss Florida beauty contest sponsored by the Miami Beach Junior Chamber of Commerce.

WILLING AND USEFUL HELPERS—School children work along with their elders to help alleviate the housing shortage in Greece. Here they work with shovels and pick axes, digging material for mortar to help rebuild their teacher's house at Kalambaka, Greece.

CANINE HERO—For saving the life of his 23-year-old blind mistress, Anita Blair, right, during the La Salle Hotel fire in Chicago, Fawn, a seeing-eye dog, was given the heroism award of the Chicago Anti-Cruelty Society by W. A. Young.

NO CATS OR DOGS

The TEENIE WEEENIES

BY W.D. POTTER

THE old sauce dish had been cleaned and filled with fresh water and the Teenie Weenies spent a lot of their time in the tiny swimming pool. The Lady of Fashion was particularly fond of swimming and she always went for a dive off the tiny spring-board and for a swim around the pool the first thing in the morning.

Early one morning she put on her tiny bathing suit, which was small enough to be wrapped up in a postage stamp. She took her dressing gown and bathing cap and tripped off to the pool under a bush not far from the shoe house. She climbed up the steps to the diving platform, threw off her dressing gown and was about to pull on her diving cap when, to her horror, she saw a frog in the pool. Now, if she had thought a bit she would have gone quietly back to the shoe house and reported a frog in the pool. However, she didn't think—she screamed, and screamed so loudly she brought a number of Teenie Weenies running pell mell to the spot.

The frog was young and the little men soon took it out of the pool. The Dunce claimed the frog, and then it came out that he and Gogo had caught it the night before and had put it in the pool for safekeeping.

"A swimming pool is no place for a frog," the General told the Dunce.

"I'll not swim in this pool until the water is changed," protested the Lady of Fashion. "I simply will not swim in water a frog has been in."

"That's right," agreed the General, eyeing Gogo and the Dunce. "This pool must be emptied right away and then I want it refilled with fresh water."

"Ah, say!" growled the Dunce. "I'll take a lot of work to bail it out. There's about 60 thumbfuls in there. Anyhow, that frog didn't hurt the water."

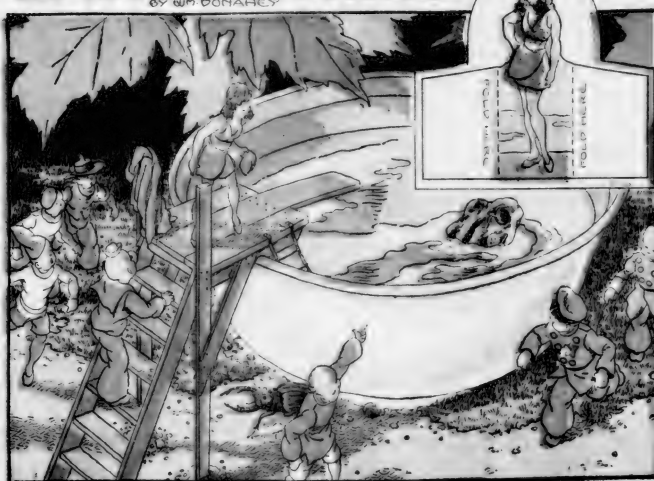

"You and Gogo bail out that pool today," said the General. "It will probably rain tonight and then the pool will be filled with fresh water."

"Listen, General!" argued the Dunce. "I want to go fishin' today. Why can't we wait until tomorrow and then I'll scout around until I find a thirsty dog or a couple of cats and get them to drink up the water? They'll save a lot of work and I can go fishin'."

"You boys brought this work on yourselves by putting the frog in the water," said the General. "Now you can clean out the pool, and no dogs or cats will help you."

The two Teenie Weenies set to work and by luncheon time the pool was empty and clean. Gogo and the Dunce went fishing after all and it rained hard during the night, filling the pool to the brim.
